MHT Partners is proud to announce that The Amynta Group (“Amynta”), an industry-leading group of warranty, managing general agent and specialty risk companies backed by Madison Dearborn Partners has acquired ClearView Risk Holdings, LLC (“ClearView”), a differentiated habitational Managing General Agent (“MGA”) and leading specialized transactional Wholesale Brokerage that controls over $200 million of premium. MHT Partners served as exclusive financial advisor to Amynta in this transaction.

ClearView is the parent holding company for Strata Underwriting Managers, a nationally recognized habitational program designed exclusively for the underwriting and management of multi-dwelling properties, and Southwest Risk, a full-service specialty transactional wholesale brokerage platform with expertise in difficult-to-place commercial coverage in both the excess and surplus and specialty-admitted marketplace. Headquartered in Dallas, Texas, with offices in Houston, Fort Worth and Tallahassee, Florida, ClearView writes business in 37 states nationwide. ClearView's team, led by CEO Parker Rush, will continue driving expansion of the business as part of Amynta.

Stuart Hollander, CEO of Amynta, commented “We are excited to welcome the industry-leading ClearView team to our Amynta family as we work together to leverage their specialty platform for combined accelerated growth. This acquisition is a major step forward in our strategy to expand Amynta’s MGA segment, enter the habitational risk and property underwriting space as well as to diversify our services from premier carriers,” Hollander added, “With its sophisticated technology and range of relevant products and industries including habitational, construction, energy, manufacturing, property and casualty, ClearView is well positioned in the market and perfectly aligned with our growth strategy as we seek to scale our platform and deliver additional market-leading products and services to our clients and customers.”

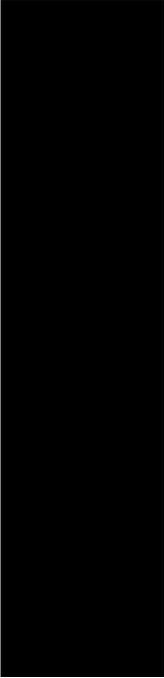

Dan Rappaport, SVP, Mergers & Acquisitions of Amynta, commented “MHT Partners was an integral part of our deal team. MHT’s analytical approach and transaction expertise were instrumental to getting this deal closed. We look forward to our continued collaborative efforts.”

Shawn D. Terry, Co-Founder and Managing Director, MHT Partners, states, “Amynta’s acquisition of ClearView is highly strategic. ClearView brings a deep and proven management team, complementary underwriting expertise and specialized wholesale brokerage capabilities. The combination of ClearView and Amynta introduces new growth opportunities for both businesses.”

Kevin Jolley, a Managing Director at MHT Partners, states, “We are honored to have represented Amynta in this transaction and look forward to our continued working relationship with Amynta’s outstanding team.”
